

System Introduction

National Procurement and Project Management System (TAKAMUL) is a system for automating all processes related to the government projects and procurement from the planning stage, through tendering, contract follow-up and implementation, to the stage of closing contracts for projects and procurement in government entities.

Planning

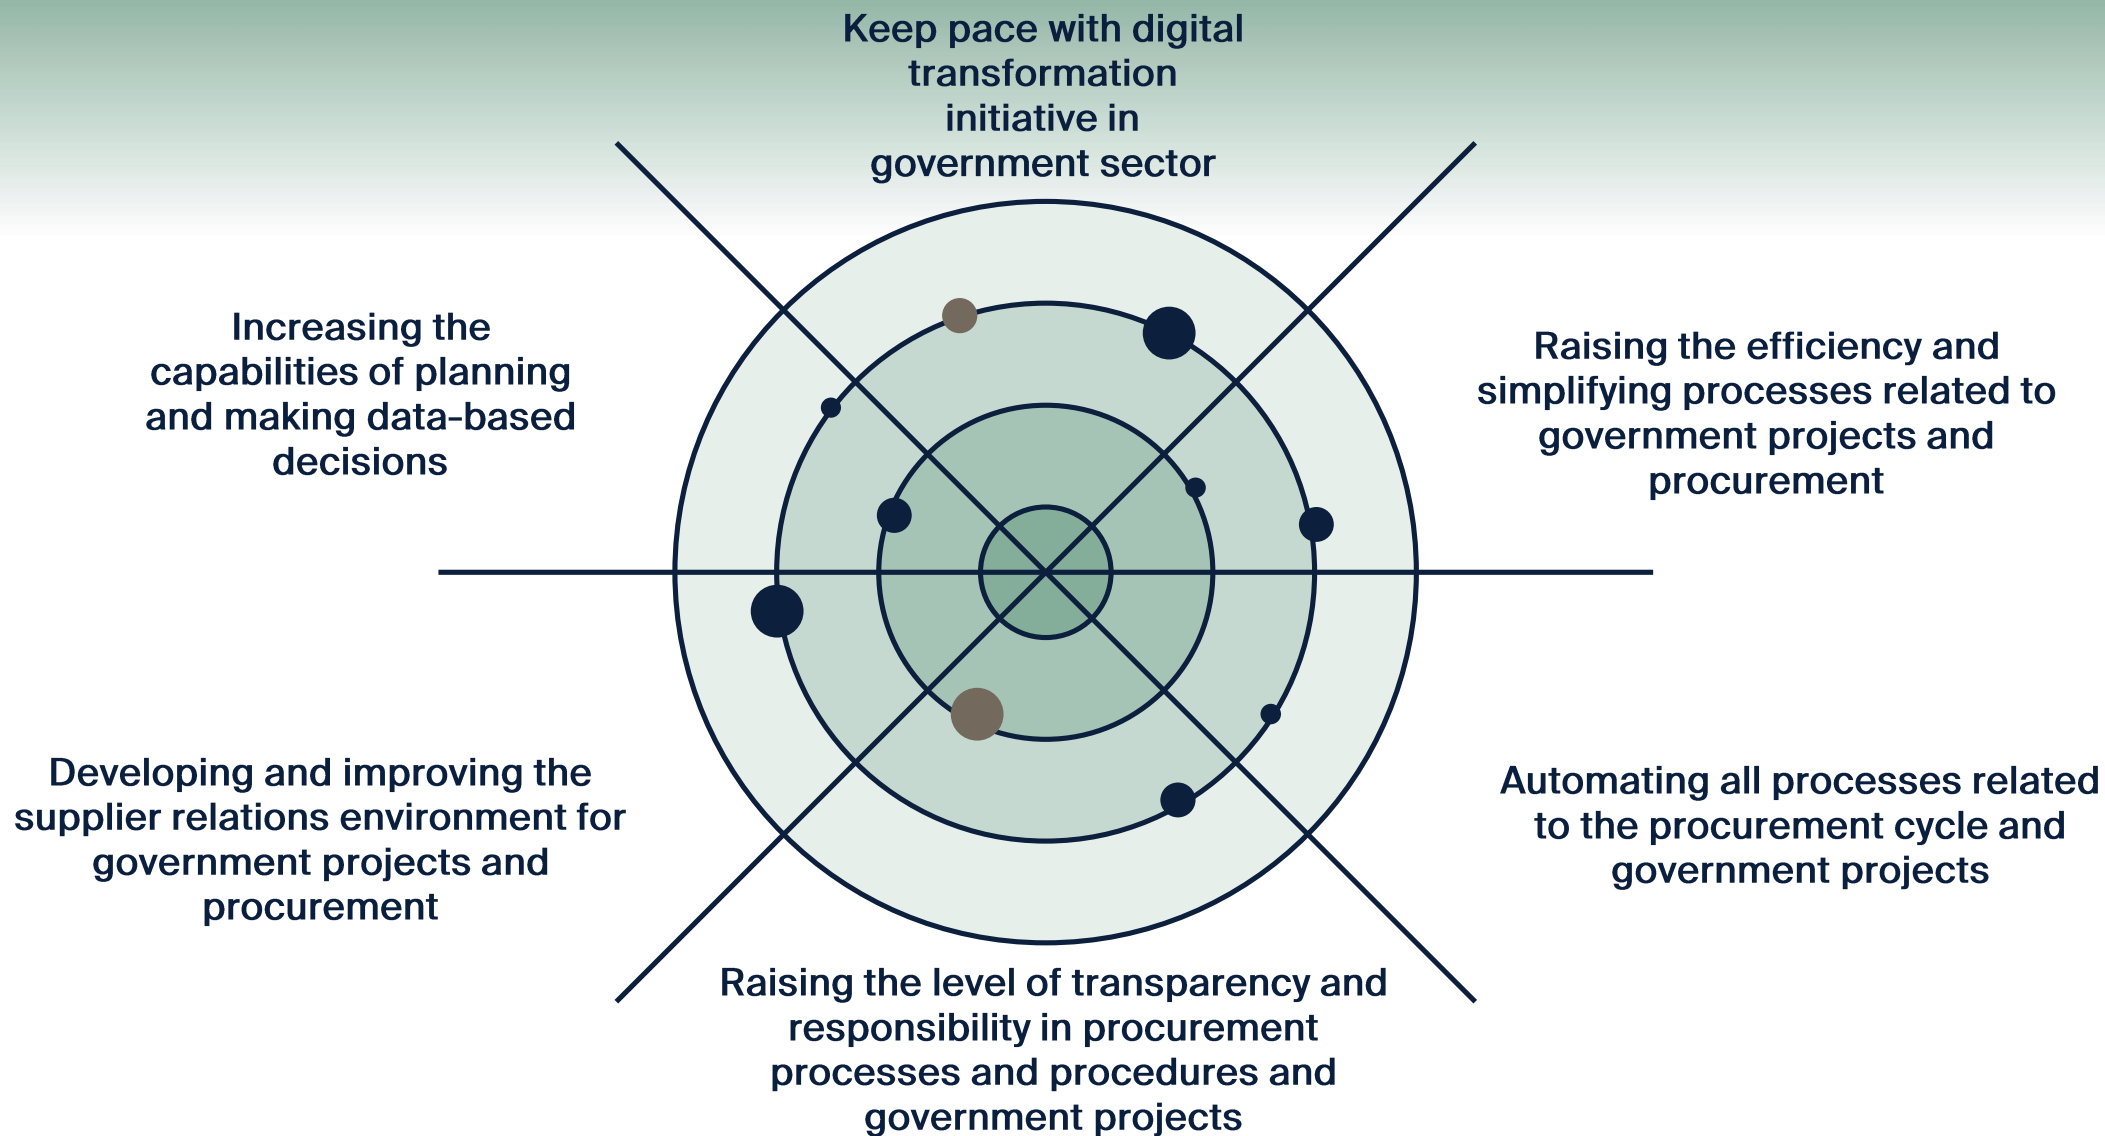

Tendering

Contracting

Execution

Closing

Project Objectives

System Modules

Project Management System

Procurement Management System

Supplier Relationship Management system

Tendering Management System

Contract Management System

System Components

The National Procurement and Project Management System revolves around the following

